VOL. CXV. No. 154. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1914. PRICE, 2 CENTS

KELLY'S ARMY IN ALEXANDRIA

"Unemployed" Reach Here at Four o'Clock This Morning.

DESCENT ON CAPITAL

"General" Coxey Expected to Come to This City for Conference with "Colonel" McLennon.

A division of "Kelly's army of the Unemployed" headed by Colonel C. D. McLennon, who twenty years ago lead a similar army to Washington, arrived in Alexandria at four o'clock this morning preparatory to a descent upon the capital early next week. The band consists of 45 men and several recruits joined here today. They came from Charlottesville on the C & O Railway and Col. McLennon was frank to state that they rode to this city on "side-door Pullmans."

The army is encamped on the line of the old Alexandria canal, a few yards north of the city limits on the bank of the Potomac. The men were busy this morning washing their clothes and making prepaations for their visit to Washington. According to their statements it will take several days to complete their arrangements.

Col. McLennon said this morning that he had telegraphed General Coxey at his home at Masselon, Ohio, of his arrival in this city and that he expected the general to come here Monday for a conference with him.

The band is all that remains of the army of 2,000 unemployed that left San Francisco for Washington four months ago.

In command of the "army" is "Colonel" C. D. Lennon, a former Alaskan prospector, who made a pile in the gold fields and lost it in investments in British Columbia. He is a picturesque character and a natural leader of men, his followers obeying his every word. The band is fully organized and follows military rules. The field marshal is A. Gougeon and the majors are Patrick Kelly—no relation to the man who arranged the transcontinental and who remained on the "farm" at Sacramento—and Tom Molin. The men are divided into two companies, which are designated "A" and "B," each of which has its petty officers.

None of the members is permitted to drink nor is stealing countenanced by the officers. A recruit got drunk three weeks ago and he was dismissed, according to 'Col." McLennon. The band carries all kinds of cooking utensils and some of them have blankets and sleeping sacks, as they are forced to spend many nights in the open. They have received numerous contributions from sympathizers along the course of their journey, and labor unions have aided them considerably. This money goes for food and only on rare occasions, says the "colonel" have they been forced to seek back-door "hand-outs." Tobacco money is obtained through the sale of their photographs, which they take and develop themselves with a complete outfit owned by one of the members who started with them from the coast.

THEY BLAME LIQUOR

Inmates of Pennsylvania "Pen" Sign Petition for Prohibition.

Philadelphia, June 27.—A petition drafted by prisoners in the Eastern Penitentiary declaring that fully 70 per cent of the crime within the State is directly attributable to the excessive use of intoxicating liquors and asking for the enactment of prohibition legislation is being circulated among convicts confined in that institution.

It is reported that 1,500 signatures of inmates of the prison will be attached to the petition, which is to be presented to the Legislature. The editor of a paper published in the penitentiary by the prisoners initiated the movement.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The heat wave has claimed seven lives in the last three days in Detroit, Mich.

Many were killed or injured yesterday in a violent earthquake which caused widespread damage in Southern Sumatra.

P. Ezequiel Rojas, minister from Venuzela to the United States, died at a hotel at Atlantic City yesterday. Death was due to heart condition of long standing.

One passenger was crushed to death and one employe undoubtedly was washed away in the Merced river, Cal., when two cars of a Yosemite Valley passenger train left the rails Thursday night and rolled down an embankment into the river. Nine other passengers were more or less seriously injured.

At 5 o'clock this evening Fort McHenry will be formally transferred to the city of Baltimore by the United States government. The fort is to be used as a park.

John Temple Graves, in a Washington dispatch to the New York American, says: "I am as certain as I have ever been of anything in American politics that Woodrow Wilson will not be a candidate to succeed himself as President in 1916, and that the full strength of the administration will be behind William J. Bryan in his effort to make a fourth race for the White House.

At the foot of a hundred foot bluff on the ocean beach near San Pedro, Cal., the bodies of three women and a man, victims of an automobile accident, were found Thursday. The automobile, a new car, driven by Harry Baker, a wieless operator of San Pedro, had plunged over the bluff late at night, killing the four. It was Baker's first trip in the machine.

Benjamin Argumedo and Antonio Rojas, former Orozco rebel leaders, but now generals of federal irregular troops, were killed last Saturday in action. The last action of General Barron was to blow up the building in which Attorney Majallanes lived. He, his wife, and eight children perished. The youngest child returned, to find the demolished house and the bodies. The street fighting in Zacatecas was the most severe of the revolution. The federals fought from street to street, from housetop to housetop, and many constitutionalists paid with their lives for their bravery.

A startling new feature in the mysterious Ballou tragedy at Stamford, Conn., developed when Homer S. Cummings, State's attorney, and vice chairman of the National Democratic Committee, advanced the theory that a second man, a friend of both Ballou and Helen M. Angle, was present in the Angle apartment when Ballou sustained the injuries that caused his death. This man, according to Mr. Cummings and Chief of Police William Brennan, is known to the police and can be placed under arrest at any time. He is said to be a Stamford politician, a friend of Ballou, and friendly of late with Mrs. Angle.

MRS. CAMINETTI MAY RUN

Proposed for Lieutenant-Governor on Democratic Ticket.

San Francisco, June 27.—Mrs. A. Caminetti, wife of the Commissioner-General of Immigration and one of the most active women in Democratic politics, may become a candidate for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, it was learned last night at a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee

Several women leaders of the party have urged her to make the race and Mrs. Caminetti admitted that she was giving considerable thought to the proposal.

Mrs. Caminetti said she would not "permit the Democrats to be outdone by the Republicans, who already have a young woman candidate for Lieutenant-Governor."

MORE ABOUT THE HOSPITAL FUND

With City's Appropriation, Total Amount Assured Will Be $42,000.

PICNIC ON JULY 4TH

Alexandrians and People of Surrounding Country Expected to Vie in the Amusements.

The week ends very satsifactorily when we consider the fact that the appropriation of $5,000 by the City Council for the hospital fund has been agreed upon by both Boards and doubtless will be approved his His Honor, Mayor Fisher, who has up to the present writing not received the ordinance, owing to the fact that one of the heads of the board happened to be out of town this morhing.

The appropriation by the Council of Alexandria identifies all of our citizens with this movement and shows the patriotic spirit that underlies everyone in Alexandria. When this appropriation is properly approved by the Mayor it will bring the appropriation up to near $42,000 and there is little doubt in the near future that this sum will exceed the $50,000 our energetic and patriotic citizens committee started out to secure.

It is desirable that everyone should recollect that today week is the 4th of July and that the 4th of July is one of the greatest days in the history of the American republic and in these days of a safe and sane Fourth, Luna Park where the grounds are thrown open, together with the principal amusements, for the benefit of the hospital, is the place to go. It is hoped that every Alexandrian and everyone from Alexandria and Fairfax Counties will spend the Fourth at Luna Park and it is very much desired that all of the citizens of Washington, who desire a most pleasant day at least cost, will take their baskets and join their Virginia friends and neighbors in not only the celebration of the Declaration of Independence, but in adding to the hospital fund.

GRASPS WIRE AND DIES

Lineman, Losing His Balance, Defies the Deadlier Agent.

Reading, Pa., June 27.—Perched on top of the 40-foot pole on Cedar street, between Green and Greenwich, William H. Eyler, of No. 1553 Cotton street was electrocuted yesterday morning while looking for a break in the municipal wire. Eyler was sitton on a crosspiece at the top of the pole, when he lost his balance, and in an attempt to save himself grasped the live wire . His limp form was seen hanging over the crosspiece by Harry Rheinhart, who immediately turned off the current.

Louis Allgaier, an employee of the company, climbed the pole, and, believing the man to be unconscious, carried him to the ground, and hurried him to the hospital, where the physician declared death had been instantaneous.

The palms of both hands were burned to the bone. Eyler is survived by a wife, Millie, and one child.

ALLEGED USELESS OFFICE.

House Votes Down Proposition to Give Bryan Another Assistant.

With the aid of Champ Clark the House yesterday voted down the proposal to give William J. Bryan another assistant in the office of Secretary of State at $4,500 a year. The discussion on this proposition hinged around Mr. Bryan's past and prospective appearances on the Chautauqua circuit. Republican Leader Mann declared that this office, if created, "would be filled by a stenographer who would doubtless be entrusted with the duty of keeping track of Mr. Bryan's lecture engagements."

"There has been a good deal of lobbying done in support of the proposition," replied Mr. Mann.

Mr. Mann read a plank from the Baltimore platform, said to have been written by Mr. Bryan, committing the Democratic party to abolish "useless offices" in the government service.

"Now this gentleman comes forward," said Mr. Mann, "and wants a 'useless office' created for his own benefit."

By a vote of 134 to 132 the House refused to concur in the Senate amendment giving Mr. Bryan another assistant. Speaker Clark voted with the majority.

It is unusual for the Speaker to vote. When Speaker desires to vote he has his name called at the end of the roll. There was applause and laughter as the Speaker shouted a "no" that penetrated into the corridors.

Walter W. Hall, after his marriage to Mrs. Bessie M. Cross in the jail at Huntington, W. Va., was released on the charge of stealing a motorcycle.

H. Shriver, wife and five children, while fording the Potomac river at Cherry Run, were nearly drowned, their horse falling into a hole in midstream.

Preferred Death to Arrest.

Philadelphia, June 27.—Rather than submit to the disgrace of arrest on his wife's charge of non-support, Harry Adams, 46 years old, of No. 500 Spruce St., yesterday committed suicide by drinking poison at his place of employment, No. 202 south Ninth Street, when a court officer came for him. According to his daughter, Lillian, 19 years old, he carried out a threat he made to her mother several months ago, when she announced her intention to have him arrested.

DYNAMITERS BACK IN PRISON

Ironworkers, Once Bailed, Denied Clemency by Wilson.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 27.—The 12 ironworkers convicted in the "dynamite conspiracy cases," who arrived here late last night to begin serving sentences, were put through the routine process of "dressing in" at the United States penitentiary today.

When the men came from the ward where they spent the night, having arrived too late to be asigned to cells, each was given a bath, a shave, a new suit of prison clothes and new prison shoes, and their prison life, which began New Year's day a year ago, but was interrupted by their release on bond started anew.

Wth the arrival of Eugene A. Clancy, of San Francisco, and Frank J. Higgins, of Boston, the men will take up their old places on the work of constructing cell houses.

While several of the newcomers made inquiries about their comrades who never were released on bond and who had remained in the prison serving their sentences, no information was asked about Herbert S. Hockin, of Detroit, who is looked upon as one of the causes of the enforced imprisonment of the labor leaders. The iron workers declare Hockin, by giving information to the Government, aided in their conviction. Hockin, who is acting as a guard at one of the vehicle entrances of the prison, likewise made no inquiries about his former associates. Hockin's wife is leading a movement to obtain executive clemency for the former labor leader and his friends believe he has but a short time to remain in the prison.

TRUST SPEECH TO HOLD CONGRESS

Senator Williams Voices Response to Demand that Work Proceed.

FAITH IN CAPTAIN

President Wilson's Speech to Newspaper Men Hailed with Enthusiasm by Congressmen.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—"We're ready for the fight and we are going to fight until we put this trust legislation through if it takes all summer," declared Senator Williams, Democrat, of Mississippi, when the Federal Trade Commission bill was taken up for consideration.

Senator Williams defended President Wilson's demand that Congress sit until it pass trust legislation and he assailed those whom he said were responsible for a propaganda designed to have Congress adjourn without action.

"We Democrats meant what we said, and we are going to stay here and prove to the country we meant what we said when we promised to take the three great monsters that threaten economic competition by the throat," declared Senator Williams. "We did not act like fools in the tariff matter, we did not act like fools in the currency matter, and we are not going to act like fools in this matter We are going to be conservatively constructive. We have legislated to prevent exploitation through tariff taxation and to prevent exploitation through the money trust, now we are about to legislate to prevent exploitation by the Industrial Trust."

The Senator put President Wilson's speech to the Virginia editors in the Congressional record.

Senator Williams predicted that despite the propaganda an dthe "psychological" condition business would improve.

There can be no further doubt about President Wilson's uncompromising attitude on the anti-Trust legislation, and his resolve that all of the bills shall be finally voted upon at this session of Congress.

After what Mr. Wilson said Thursday, it is not likely that any of the Democratic leaders in Congress will venture to approach him with the suggestion that any of the bills be dropped, or that action be postponed until next winter.

ATTEMPTS ASSAULT ON BLEASE.

Business Man Called "A Liar" by Governor in Campaign Speech.

Barnwell, S. C., June 27.—M. N. Holland, a business man here, attempted to assault Governor Cole Blease yesterday when the Governor called him a liar. Blease in a speech in his campaign for the United States Senate exhibited a photograph showing a group of white teachers and negro pupils at Benedict College and said it depicted conditions he intended to eradicate.

"You'll be in the next picture when Senator Smith gets through with you," shouted Holland from the audience.

"You're a liar," answered Blease.

Holland rushed at him, but two policemen threw themselves in front of him and led him away.

Answering a charge made by W. P. Pollock, a rival candidate, that Blease helped James Johnson, alias Portland Ned, to escape from a United States marshal, the Governor declared:

"The man who said that James Johnson was slipped out of the executive office clad in Governor Blease's suit is a liar and a contemptible coward."

NORFOLK LOSES DRYDOCK

Senate Recedes from Amendment; Fight Ended for This Session.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—The drydock fight between Philadelphia and Norfolk came to an end yesterday, so far as the present session of Congress is concerned, when the conferences of the House reported that the Senate conference had receded on the Senate amendment which authorized a $3,000,000 drydock for Norfolk. The House formally concurred n the report, as did the Senate. Representative Robert E. Lee, of Pennsylvania, a member of the House Naval Committee, who led the fight against the Norfolk authorization, is hopeful that next year he will be able to secure an authorization for League Island.

FALLS ON STOVE.

Norfolk Girl Narowly Escapes Death Burned by Scalding Water.

Norfolk, Va., June 27.—The first victim of the excessive heat wave which has had this section in its grasp was reported Thursday morning when Miss Beatrice Crump, of Sixth street nad Douglas avenue, Port Norfolk, had a narrow escape from death.

Miss Crump was busily engaged in household duties at the home of her father, W. P. Crump, Wednesday morning shortly after 11 o'clock when she fell exhausted against the stove.

In her fall she accidentally overturned a vessel containing hot water, badly scalding herself in addition to the burns received by falling on the stove. When found Miss Crump was lying upon the kitchen floor unconscious and medical assistance was immediately summoned. While her burns are painful it was not thought that they were of a necessarily fatal nature.

SEARCH FOR DEAD IN SALEM, MASS.

Terrible Pictures of Devastation Wrought by Fire Thursday.

ONLY SIX PERISHED

Total Loss Placed at $12000,000—Good Order Prevails and No Attempts at Looting Reported.

Salem, Mass., June 27.—Salem today began the search for her head.

The great welt which had been laid crescent-shape across the fair Puritan city by the second worst fire in New England's history, had cooled sufficient by this morning to allow examination of the devastation. Searchers, held aghast by the thousands of gaunt chimneys and charred tree trunk which alone stood where only two days ago was a city, made their way among piles of crumpled brick and catacombs of gaping cellars.

Perhaps the most extraordinary part of this conflagration is that only six are so far reported dead. In some almost miraculous way, he sick, crippled, and infirm seem to have saved themselves from the fire as it jumped first one way, then another, at the direction of the wind.

The total property loss is set at $12,000,000 and insurance company's loss at $10,000,000 in today's Standard, the weekly insurance magazine.

Almost unequaled in the history of big catastrophes is the perfect regard for law that has reigned since the fire. There has been confusion even panic, but not the slightest suggestion of rioting or lawlessness.

LOSES LIFE FOR WOMAN.

Dr. Holmes Yeakley Meets Heroic Fate in Calf Pasture River Near Deerfield.

Staunton, Va., June 27.—In an effort to rescue the wife of his friend, Dr. Holmes Yeakley, of Keyser, W. Va., and formerly in charge of the drug store of the Western State hospital here, lost his life near Deerfield a few days ago.

Dr. Yeakley, with his wife and son, were staying here while he was treated at a local hospital for blood-poisoning resulting from a pricked finger. Yesterday, with his family, he motored to the camp of J. A. Glasow, of this city, one mile from Deerfield. Mrs. Glasgow and the children were staying there, and the Yeakleys were to be their guests. After dinner Mrs. Glasgow and Mrs. Yeakley went swimming in the pool before the camp. Calf Pasture river at that point is hardly six feet at its deepest. Mrs. Glasgow, however, got out of her depth and sank twice. Dr. Yeakley leaped in to aid her, and either from his weakened condition suffered a heart stroke or he was cramped and drowned.

BORNE BY FLOOD IN MINE.

Lake Breaks in on 35 Diggers, and Sweeps Them Along.

Pottsville, Pa., June 27.—A subterranean lake, of undertermined origin, broke into the Wade colliery workings yesterday, imperiling the lives of 35 workmen as a stream of water from three to four feet swept through the gangway.

Many of the men, carried along by the rush of the stream, were badly bruised bumping against mine props, and most of the miners were covered with mud from head to foot, and looked as if roughly handled.

After a few moments the water subsided and last night the mine has been completely drained and is ready for work again.

TO MEET IN CHURCH YARD

Open Air Services Tomorrow Evening—Rector's Appeal to the People.

For the first time in its history open-air services in the church yard will be inaugurated at Christ Church tomorrow evening. The Rev. William J. Morton, rector, has arranged a service which he thinks will appeal to people who will not sit in a church building during the hot weather. The services, which will commence at 7 o'clock, will be held in the yard on the east side of the parish hall. Music will be furnished by the vested choir which will march through the yard from the old church building.

The services will consist of an abbreviated form of the evening prayer, the singing of familiar hmyns, and an address of ten minutes duration by the rector.

GREEK NAVY ON THE ALERT.

Seven Reserves Called to Colors to be Ready for Eventualities.

Athens, June 27.—Seven classes of the Greek naval reserves were yesterday called to the colors, the official explanation of the mobilization being "the increase of the fleet and the naval maneuvers to begin next week."

The real reason of the step taken by the Ministry of Marine, however, is understood to be the determination of the Greek Government to be prepared for all eventualites, although there is an apparent slackening of the tension between Turkey and Greece.

WANTS EMPLOYEES TO BE COURTEOUS.

To impress upon every individual connected with the company the importance of politeness and courtesy in dealing with the public, President Harrison, of the Southern Railway Company, has sent every officer and employee a circular letter stating that this is a primary rule of the management and asking its careful observance.

A careful perusal of Mr. Harrison's circular will prove profitable to others as well as railway men. There is no good reason for any man or woman to be abrupt. The good book tells us to be courteous, also that a soft answer turneth away wrath.

A man in the employ of common carriers should be polite and patient notwithstanding the terrible strain to which he is often subjected.

It is manifest that discourtesy is inherent in many people, although we prefer to believe that much of this behavior is due more to thoughtlessness than any intention to be offensive.

Some men when they find themselves in representative positions strangely suppose that snubbery is one of the requisites of their callings.

Many years ago a prominent Congressman, who was regarded as the incarnation of good fellowship among his fellow-representatives, was called to a cabinet position by a change of the administration. Almost as soon as he assumed his new position he transformed himself into an unapproachable iceberg and went out of office regretted by none.

When Charles Dickens was at the zenith of his career he made a visit to the United States, where his books were as popular as in his own country. The novelist was received with great enthusiasm upon landing on our shores but he created a bad impression long before the roar of the ocean left his ears. His would-be worshipers found they were about to embrace a torostone and people of sensitive nature soon lost interest in him.

An Alexandrian, long since deceased, was a passenger on a Pullman car many years ago while making a trip from Philadelphia to Washington. There was but one other passenger on the car, a man the Alexandrian never saw before. The latter almost as soon as the train started began a conversation with the native of this city, which he kept up until the train rolled into the station in Washington. The Alexandrian, an intelligent man himself, realized he was in the company of no ordinary man and was enthralled by his brilliancy. As the stranger arose to leave the car he extended his hand to his companion, said he had enjoyed his company, asked his name and expressed a desire meet him again.

After the Alexandrian had given his name he said he also had enjoyed the stranger's conversation and would like to have his name. The latter replied "I'm James G. Blaine, and I want you to call on me some time when you are in Washington."

The late Roscoe Conkling was of an entirely different mould. Realizing the fact that he was superior in many respects to the ordinary run of mankind, he made no hesitancy in letting it be known rather too often. He was on one occason at Atlantic City enjoying a swim. He ventured near some dangerous obstruction, when a man, who knew the Senator by sight, called his attention to the danger. Conkling merely cast a contemptuous glance at the man and turned away without uttering a word.

Such people should realize that the great mass of mankind are not Boswells. While the admirer of the English lexicographer was willing to be ill-treated by the subject of his book in consideration of being allowed in his august presence, many others would have turned in disgust from the irritable and often insolent old man.

FAMOUS AS CITY OF WITCHES

Twenty Persons Were Put to Death to Stamp Out Black Art.

Salem is famous in early Colonial history for its witches. The delusion which led to the execution of 20 persons and the torture of 50 originated through the hysteria of the children of the Rev. Samuel Parris. In the winter of 1691-2 his daughter Elizabeth, aged 9; his niece, Abigail Williams aged 11, and several friends used to meet to practice tricks. A half negro slave Tituba began to teach them what she called the "black art" and soon they were barking like dogs or screaming at some object they said they could see, although invisible to everyone else.

Witchcraft was a very real thing to the people of the seventeenth century, and Cotton Mather and his teachings encouraged the belief in it. Some one had to be blamed for the folly of the girls, and Parris beat Tituba until she admitted that she had bewitched the children.

John Indian, her husband, through fear, accused others, and the young people of Salem notably Ann Putnam, spread the stories. At length a regular reign of terror prevailed in the village. Any one who had a grudge against another could accuse him, and, strangely enough, some of those thus calumnated, admitted that they were obsessed. A special court was formed to try those who had sold themselves to the devil, and it was unsafe to express doubt of any one's guilt.

Parris got the Rev. George Burroughs, pastor of Salem, hanged as friend of the witches and one colonist, Giles Corey, a man of 80, in connection with the craze achieved the distinction to be the only man ever slain in America by the old punishment of peine forte et dure. Accused by Ann Putnam, he was determined to do all he could to save his property for his family. If he was brought to trial and convicted it would be confiscated, and the one way he could avoid this was to refuse to plead. So he stood mute as the charge was read to him, and, according to custom, his obduracy was punished by the peine forte et dure. Iron weights were piled upon him, but not quite enough to crush him. Then he was left to linger in agony and fed him with only enough bread and water to keep him alive.

Tradition has it that the brave old man stood this torture with such courage that he taunted his persecutors and asked them to pile on heavier weights. He died this way and four days later his wife also was tried for witchcraft and hanged.—New York Times.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE SAVES THE HAIR

And Keeps You Looking Young

Don't look older than you are. It is just as easy to look younger. While lack of hair or poor hair is not always an indication of age, it is frequently accepted as such.

A person well advanced in years possessing a good head of hair is always spoken of as "well preserved."

Everyone can retain beautiful, luxuriant hair if they make the effort. In almost every instance poor hair or the loss of hair may be traced to the activity of the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide prevents the scale-like accumulation and puts the scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. With the elimination of the dandruff the hair no longer drops out. The itching of the scalp stops almost at once.

Newbro's Herpicide is the remedy for which there are many substitutes, preparations claimed to be "just as good." You don't have to accept a substitute. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide.

Sold and guaranteed, and your money back if not satisfied.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

WHIPPED BY WOMAN LAWYER.

Farmer Roughly Handled by Irate Female in West Virginia.

Winchester, Va., June 27.—Charles E. Casler, a husky farmer of Morgan county, W. Va., entered the offices of Mrs. G. McIntire-Weaver, the lawyer at Berkeley Springs, and took exception to the action of Mrs. Weaver in handling several cases against him in the justice court at that place.

Mrs. Weaver was alone in her office at the time and Casled becoming abusive, refused to leave when requested to do so and applied an offensive epithet to Mrs. Weaver. That lady promptly took an exception to his remarks and let fly the volume of Hogg's Pleading nad Forms which she happened to be reading at the time and struck Casler squarely in the face with it. The heavy volume cut open his eyebrow cutting him severely and drawing the blood. She followed up by striking him over the head and shoulders with a glass vase that was filled with roses and stood upon her desk, deluging him with the roses and water in the vase. Casler was dazed by the suddenness of the action, and recovering attempted to close with Mrs. Weaver, but was unsuccessful, and Mrs. Weaver succeeded in ejecting him from her offices and only the opportune interference of Dr. J. E. Herbert who has offices in the same building and who was attracted by the noise, prevented Casler's forcible and sudden descent down the flight of stairs leading to the offices.

The arrival of Sheriff Ruppenthal, who had been sent for by Mrs. Weaver, who had immediately noticed the ugly mood Casler was in, and the removal of Casler from the building, put an end to the affair which has caused a sensation.

DROUGHT TO SEVERE.

Lawyers Abandon Trip to White Sulphur, W. Va.

Richmond, Va., June 27.—Because of the drought which sets in over the entire State of West Virginia, beginning July 1, the State Bar Association of Virginia has changed its place of meeting from the White Sulphur Springs to the Hot Springs of Virginia. The association follows the old custom of giving a great banquet during the session, and at such functions it has been the invariable custom to have wine served at the dinner. The laws of the State of West Virginia make this absolutely impossible, for there is no way by which it can be bought, sold, furnished, served, given away or shipped into the State. It is contrary to the law for a man to invite a guest to his home and to give him a liquor of any sort. That is the law, and while lawyers have attempted to drive a wagon through the bill they have decided that the best way to get out of the difficulty will be to have the meeting at some resort where there is likely to be less friction and an ample supply of whatever the members may call for. This is in line with the action of the members of the Westmoreland Club, of this city, which had aranged to hold its annual Fourth of July celebration at the White, but when it dawned on the members that they could not get a drop to drink they counselled and decided to change. At first there were more than enough applicants for the trip and there was a waiting list in case anyone should drop out. The information that the prohibition laws of West Virginia would prohibit caused the list to shrink, and in a day or two there were left so few that there would not have been enough to have filled one car, to say nothing of a special train, and so the trip was abandoned. The Westmoreland Club will therefore go to Old Point, where there is plenty of water and no restrictions regarding just how many glasses of champagne one may have with his meals.

Cape Henry Land.

Norfolk, Va., June 27.—$180,940 was paid into the United States Court here yesterday. This amount was in the form of a check drawn by Colonel E. E. Winslow, with the authority of the United States, and was in payment for the land at Cape Henry recently condemned as a fort site. The money was paid to Assistant United States Attorney Hiram Smith.

With the payment of the consideration the title to the property automatically vests in the United States, by statute. A commissioner will now be appointed by the court to determine to whom and in what amounts the fund shall be distributed, and the liens upon the property to be settled. The commissioner will probably be named by Judge Waddill when he returns to the bench here.

The various amounts will be distributed by the clerk of the court when the commissioner makes his report.
